From one tomb that of the Dowager Empress Tsu Lin who died in 1908 robbers have taken jewels valued at more than $200,000,000.
The old empress will not miss her jewels now and it might as well be in execution making other fool women happy.

The interesting and surprising fact is disrespect for the dead, rare in China.

When Russians and Japanese were fighting sometimes on Chinese soil with Chinese often killed, there was no complaint until some old Chinese graveyards were disturbed.

Recently to make a straight road to the tomb of Sun Tai Sen first president of the Chinese Republic many houses of peasants were destroyed.
More than 100 of the unfortunate are said to have committed suicide but there was no public protest. A great man must have a straight road to his tomb. *

FORMER IBERIA MAN TO WED IN GERMANY

To Return to United States After Obtaining Degree

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Thea Fraunier of Aschaffenburg, Germany, and Thomas Auld Vanatta of Iberia which took place July 3 at Aschaffenburg.

Mr. Vanatta is a former resident of Iberia and left there some time ago when he received a $1000 scholarship at the University of Chicago where he was studying to be a Presbyterian minister. He was ordained that same year and for some time he had been filling pulpits in Montana. He left the United States two years ago to attend the Presbyterian college at Aschaffenburg where he majored in German in order that he might obtain his degree Aug. 1. Miss Fraunier graduated from the same college where she was studying music.

The couple are returning to the United States and will visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Auld of Caledonia. They will also reside at Wooster or Chicago temporarily.

ASSERTS HE'LL WIN SUIT AGAINST GENE

Fogarty Prepares To File Action Charging Alienation of Wife's Affections

NEW YORK, July 22.—"I'll win this suit against Gene Tunney, I have evidence no jury can doubt."

This was the assertion today of John S. Fogarty of Fort Worth, Tex., who alleged that the former champion of the world alienated the affections of his wife. He planned to file suit for $500,000 against Tunney in superior court at Bridgeport, Conn., to-day.

He is the divorced husband of Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, who is also suing Tunney for "half a million" alleging breach of promise.

The "evidence" to which Fogarty referred in the alleged release made public by "Tunney's attorneys in a counter-suit to nullify Mrs. Fogarty's suit," the document sets forth that in consideration of payments of $62,500, Mrs. Fogarty released Tunney from any claim she may have had.

Fogarty and his attorney declare that in the alleged release the divorce reveals details of her supposed romance with the retired heavyweight champion.

The complaint states that Mrs. Fogarty and Tunney in Hot Springs, Ark., in October, 1924, and that in March, 1925, "she divorced Fogarty so that she could marry Tunney."

Fogarty is 36 and reputed to be wealthy, having received royalties from invention developments which he perfected.

It is expected that Fogarty's suit will be filed next spring. Mrs. Fogarty's suit probably will come to trial this fall.

AUTOISTS INJURED CHASING AIRPLANE

Car Wrecked as Occupants Seek To "Aid" Aerial Craft Near Columbus

COLUMBUS, July 22—Two persons are nursing bruises and lacerations here today as the result of "chasing" an airplane in an auto, yesterday.

Althea Hops, 21, was piloted here by her aviator husband, Floyd Hops, in their monoplane to visit her mother, Mrs. Anna Watson.

Hops was joined here by a friend, William Kaiser, also of Detroit, who was to be taken by plane to Atlanta, Ga., to visit relatives.

The family accompanied Hops and Kaiser to the airport to see them off. With Hops piloting, the ship took off but only attained an altitude of approximately 200 yards when the stick went dead, making a forced landing inevitable.

Mrs. Hops, who with her mother was watching the take-off, thought the plane was going to crash and started to follow so she could be of some

CHINA AND RUSSIA IN LEAGUE PROGRAM

Both Expected To Participate in Meeting Set for September

GENEVA July 22—Both China and Soviet Russia are expected to join in the meeting of the League of Nations disarmament commission here in September which will formulate plans for a general conference on disarmament later this year.

At three previous sessions of the commission Soviet Russia introduced its world-wide disarmament plan but they never received confirmation. Although Soviet Russia has thus been rebuffed and although the Red republic is not a member of the league, Moscow is expected to participate again in the next session of the commission.

It is understood that Thaddeus Giesen, American ambassador to Belgium, who created a sensation in the last meeting of the commission with the American suggestion for "real disarmament" will again represent America.

MacDonald will bring to the White House for discussion.

Lived as Painter Anyway the society matrons are expecting the King visit as a great feast for entertaining of MacDonald.

The premier was given a luncheon at the White House by President

Coolidge. President Hoover was Secretary of Commerce and war, Assistant Secretary of State William R.

Castle, Col. Blanton Windship and

Gen. Wilson Brown, military adviser at the White House also were guests.

Every afternoon there was a tea held in King's honor but entertaining a man of MacDonald's importance asked to attend only one social function given by a private citizen. So far there is not so much as speculation as to whom this honor will be given. It was said much will depend upon MacDonald's personal wishes.

Social Events

Senator George Blaize didn't hold a luncheon for King during his stay.

He is in no acquaintance of the premier. A number of senators their wives and local residents attended the dinners the secretary of state and the British ambassador held in his home.

MAN DROWNED IN LAKE BOAT CRASH

Search Made for Body Near Cleveland, Canoe and Steamer Collide

CLEVELAND July 22—Efforts were made early today to recover the body of Frank Kolovich, 22, of Shamokin Pa., who was drowned late yesterday when the canoe in which he was paddling with his cousins Josaphine Toll, 22, and Max Toll, 20, both of Cleveland, was captured in a collision with the lake steamer City of Buffalo. Kolovich's cousins were rescued.

The canoe, according to J. T. Rhodes of Providence R. I., a passenger on the City of Buffalo, was sunk under the steamer by the canoeists although the canoers made a desperate attempt to break free.

Kolovich and the three occupants of the canoe were apparently unaware of the approach of the lake steamer until they were well into its path.

Kolovich disappeared before life boat could be placed in the water.

The tolls were rescued by an unknown boatman who happened to be near the scene. Their canoe, which was stuck under the churning steamer paddle, was ground into bits.

Max Toll said that they were paddling for the lighthouse of Gordon port when the accident occurred.

"When we saw the steamer, it was almost on top of us and I couldn't steer out of the way in such a short time."

Kolovich came here from Shamokin several weeks ago to find employment.

He had just found a job according to his cousins and was planning to send for his wife and their 3 year old child this week.

You owe yourself comfort. You owe yourself good health. You cannot enjoy life if you are easily fatigued and lose your pep.

It takes but a few dollars, as a down payment, to have delivered immediately need and fine furniture pieces that are not "hot." We can help you keep cool in your kitchen. London reports that Premier Ramsay Mac-slightest occasion for hurry.

As a result of a report of a coming three-to-one split-up, shares in the New York Steel corporation advanced $67,152,184 on the New York stock market, one day last week.
Much as we are wedded to the work of spreading joy and sunshine in paragraphs, we are not sure but what we would retire should we ever pull down a sun like that in a day.

It was bad enough that the editor and the chief editorial writer of a Cleveland paper should have been fined $500 each and sent to jail for thirty days on a charge of contempt of court, without them having to suffer the humiliation of a proffer of aid by the American Civil Liberties union.

Prohibition agents found no liquor in the convent at Belvedere, California, raided by them without a warrant, and they had to pay for the door they destroyed in gaining entrance, but possibly they feel that the opportunity to show contempt for common decency in the treatment of church property was worth all it cost them.

To add insult to injury, handles not only overpowered the guards conveying $12,000 in cash and negotiable checks from one New Orleans bank to another, but threw off the guards and made away; as well, with the armored truck in which the valuables were being transported. And we used to talk about the "Wild and Woolly West!"

A robber was shot to death by a policeman out in Portland, Oregon, before he could get away with $4,000 he had secured by holding up the manager of one of the city's theaters.
The robber, a stranger, was probably unaware of the fact that Portland policemen are trained, first of all, in how to shoot and shoot quick.

The fact that John O. Cole, dismissed by the state prohibition department for using school girl decoys at Lancaster, is again being employed in liquor building in Jefferson county is explained by state and county officials, who say he is in the employment of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League as a "special investigator." Isn't it possible that the state league is growing a bit careless regarding the matter of public opinion?

For the Safety of Valuables.
A safety deposit box should be purely what its name implies, a box in which valuables may be deposited and kept in safety, and if loss occurs to the owner of such a box through the negligence of the officials or employees of the bank or other institution from which it is rented as a safety deposit box, such institution is responsible for the loss sustained.

Such, in effect, is the law as enunciated by Judge A. W. Agler, of the Stark county court of common pleas, in overruling a motion by the City Savings Bank and Trust company, of Alliance, in a proceeding in which the plaintiffs, William Pluchel and others, had been rendered a verdict for $12,000.

The case is a decidedly peculiar one. The testimony showed that Pluchel had rented the box in question and placed therein several packages of money amounting in all to $12,000, which later disappeared. It was brought out that an assistant cashier, who is greatly interested in old coins and has a reputation in his community as an authority on numismatics, had ordered a set of duplicate keys to the Pluchel box, intending at some time to inspect its contents to satisfy his curiosity, but he denied that he had ever used the keys or that he had ever sought to gain access to the box.

The trial of the matter resulted in a verdict for $12,000, as stated, the full amount of the plaintiff's claim, and the motion for a new trial was overruled as herein set out.

The decision should interest officials of financial institutions and their box patrons alike, and it serves as notice to all such institutions that there should be a distinct understanding between them and the manufacturers of such safety deposit boxes as are purchased by them, looking to the safeguarding of their own interests by limiting to a very few the ability to secure duplicate keys by identifying those whose orders for keys should be recognized.

Dual Citizenship.

Washington advises are to the effect that the state department will take up with Italy the cases of three citizens of the United States, who landed at Providence, Rhode Island, last week, from the Faber liner, Simala, and claimed to have escaped being sentenced to prison only by fleeing from Italy.
One of the three, Stan Cefalo, of Milwaukee, is an American-born citizen of Italian descent and the other two, Antonio Anastasi, of Cen-terdale, Rhode Island, and Vito Schillero, of New York City, are naturalized Americans of Italian birth.

Cefalo stated that he had gone to Italy with his bride and his mother for a visit and had when the Italian government ordered him to serve two years in the army, leaving his mother and his bride in Palermo to follow him.
He was told, he said, that his American rights meant nothing because his parents were born in Italy.

Anastasi said he had gone to Italy to visit relatives and had reached Messina, where he learned that a prison sentence of one year had been hanging over him for twelve years for failure to serve in the army and that he got out of Italy before his presence there had been discovered by the officials.

Schillero stated that he had been arrested in Cesaro and given the choice of serving five years in jail or two years in the army. When no heed was paid to his plea that he had become an American citizen before Italy entered the World war and hence could not have been expected to answer the Italian call, he took the matter into his own hands and was lucky enough to get out of the country.

The three cases cited represent issues of dual citizenship which the United States has consistently opposed whenever it has been claimed by other countries. Several governments maintain that naturalization of their nationals by the United States does not excuse them from military service in the country of their birth, and in Italy the law applies to the first generation of Italians born on American soil.

Among these governments is that of Greece, but this year Greece has waived the dual citizenship law to encourage travel and the spending of the money of tourists in Greece.

The state department has received notices from Athens that ex-servicemen of Greek origin from the United States may visit Greece until October 1 without being molested for military service, the waiver including both those born of Greek parents in the United States and those who previously were of Greek nationality who have become naturalized citizens over here.

It is something of coincidence that some of the governments which are most insistent in regard to their rights under their dual citizenship laws are among those who have indeed the loudest objections to their immigration quota. They would do well to against this government's decision to keep them nationalized out, and yet insist upon an alleged right to exercise control over them after they are in, even though they may have become naturalized citizens of this country.
They would play the "hounds we win, tails you lose" game on this country.

Twenty persons were drowned when the Russian steamer, Volga, struck a mine in the Black sea, last week, and sank immediately. Other reminders of the war than the debts it created thus develop from time to time.

One day last week the Chicago detective bureau was phoned to treat a member of the city's underworld right as proceedings had already been inaugurated to secure his liberty on a wrist of human corpus, and this was before the police who arrested the man in question had reached headquarters with their prisonor. Some system, that of the Chicago underworld!

Something is always happening to take the joy out of life. It has become known that as a result of the fact that he was twenty-five minutes late, the desk of Mayor Walker was covered with messages congratulating him on his decision to accept the demand of the "non-partisan" committee of 682 that he be a candidate to succeed himself which took him so completely by surprise.

The press of Japan, like that of Great Britain, applauds the American naval limitation plan, but in Japan, as in Great Britain, it has not received the approval of the naval authorities. Naturally, the naval people are not overly anxious to see their occupation lessened. If not gone.

The Illinois school lobbyists and propa-gandists appear to have overplayed their hands. In any event their tactics have been such as to array the Sucker state legislature almost solidly against them. It's another case of becoming drunk with confidence based upon the success of raids in the past.

Representative Hamilton Fish, of New York, would change the Capper plan that congress, rather than the president, would be charged with the duty of determining which might be the aggressor in the event of the breaking out of hostilities and thus decide against which belligerent an embargo should be declared. Isn't Mr. Fish encroaching upon the assumed right of the senate, which is given to attempts to wrest power from the executive branch of the government?

Friday a mob of reds demonstrated in front of the Chinese consulate in New York as an outcome of the threat of a Russo-Chinese war, and Saturday another mob, composed chiefly of members of a communist organization, the Young Pioneers, but having leaders of major years, started a near riot in the same city as a party of visiting Boy Scouts was about to sail for England. Isn't it about time for the red snake to be so thoroughly scotched as to make such occurrences improbable?

Editorial Opinion.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Nothing can be much more comforting to its possessor than a clean, clear skin. Everybody wants it and seeks it.

Unfortunately there are many diseases of the skin. Perhaps the most common is the condition called "eczema," or "salt rheum."

Like any other inflammation of the skin, the first symptom of eczema is redness. Not only is the affected part always red, but under excitement, irritation from rubbing or scratching, ex-posure to heat, or violent exercise, the redness is increased.

After a while blisters form on the red area. As these break, there is more or less moisture on the affected surface.

But the disease does not stop here. It is not long before scales and crusts take the place of the blisters.

The affected part itches, especially when the redness is increased from any cause. At times the itching is almost unbearable.

It is difficult to tell the difference between simple inflammation of the skin, called "der-matitis," and true eczema. The former is due usually to some outside irritation of the skin, and eczema is due to some internal cause.

Any skin lesion is probably an evidence of lowered resistance. It may be the outward and visible sign of a poorly-working stomach and intestines. These red blisters may be the danger signal of nature. They may indicate her protest against abuse of the digestive organs. They may mean that the kidneys are failing in their work.

It matters not whether the patient is a grown person or an infant, the presence of eczema should direct attention to the condition of the digestive organs. If constipation is present it should be corrected.

Excesses in food, highly-seasoned food, abuse of alcohol, midnight suppers, and all indiscretions in diet are productive of eczema, and must not be neglected. If ever it is to be had. Some one food may act as a poison and be the real cause of the trouble.

The "run-down" person is often troubled with this disease. Overwork, loss of sleep, worry, any cause for nervous exhaustion is a sufficient cause for eczema. Therefore persons should be warned of the skin eruption.

The itching may be relieved by application of ordinary baking soda dissolved in water. Oxide of zinc ointment may be had at the drug store and is frequently a means of relief. Sometimes oxide of zinc is mixed with coal tar and used to dry up the blisters of eczema.

One of the most efficacious remedies for itching of the skin is hyposulfite of soda. This may be made by placing a handful in a pint of water. If the whole body itches, place a handful or more in a bathtub half filled with water and get into the solution. It will act greatly to your comfort.

In every case the family doctor should be consulted.
He will determine whether the kidneys or other organs require attention. He will help to find what particular food is responsible for the disturbance.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

G. M. B. Q.—Will the juice of three or four lemons taken daily have an injurious effect upon the stomach on the entire system?

2—What causes a three-year-old child to grit his teeth during waking hours?

A—Lemon juice is good, but you suggest a rather large quantity.

2—The child may be nervous or troubled with internal worms. For particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

W. R. Q.—What do you advise for an eye-wash?

A—A weak solution of boracic acid, but it would be wise to have your eyes tested and see what is wrong. Strong eyes require no medicine.

S. L. G. Q.—Is nervousness the cause of one biting the finger nails?

A—Yes. Try painting the nails with tincture of aloes.

A. E. Q.—What do you advise for cancer sores?

A—Remedy to reduce acidity will be useful.
Talk with your doctor.—Copyright, 1929, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

M. S. Q.—What is the correct weight for a woman aged forty-one, five feet six and one-half inches tall?

A—She should weigh about 147 pounds.

A. R. Q.—What do you advise for freckles?
A—Use equal parts of lemon juice and peroxide of zinc.

UNUSUAL QUIET IN MEXICO.

In the course of the year an election in Mexico has come to be practically synonymous with revolution. The painful process of choosing a president has invariably been accompanied by various sorts of rioting and a moderate amount of assassinations. The present electoral campaign is not, however, running true to form. Perhaps there is a certain emotional exhaustion that follows an extended period of political and economic upheaval which accounts for the strange quiet that broods over the land of the Aztecs.

However that may be, the Senors Ortiz Rubio and Vasconcelos are getting out elaborate campaigns for the election of President Emilio Portes Garcia, and to date their efforts have been marked by entire order and dignity. With the church state trouble settled, the Crom—labor organization—removed from its dictatorship of national policy, and finances well in hand, there is some reason to hope that an orderly election will prove a reality.

The capacity to choose political leadership without disorder or graft is the primary test of a democratic people. Lacking that capacity, there is no self-government. If the Mexicans can conduct their elections this time with a full measure of honesty and dignity, we may well believe that a new order is coming in our sister republic to the south.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

here for 45 years and I'll probably be here until they carry me out feet first.

While horseshoeing has come to be of minor importance in the day's work of the blacksmith tinker in this town, he claims they have been increased.

A positive coincidence of the visit to the shop yesterday was that the blacksmith was making a wrench for a farm tractor. While the tractor has cleared the blacksmith of horseshoeing it is bringing him work to replace that lost.

Machine Helps

It is an ill wind that blows no one some good, as is the case of John Smith firmly believes in Horsham now this is a fact but the advent of improved machinery for farm work and heavy hauling has brought work to the blacksmith in this place.

Farmers have more machinery now than they used to have, Smith says.

Occasionally Smith does some work on an automobile. This is usually straightening axles. Some time ago he added a gauge to his equipment for determining the proper pitch of axles.

Family of Blacksmiths

Smith, one of 12 children comes from a family of blacksmiths. His father and four of his brothers followed the trade.

Smith has seen much of Waldo's history in the making. He remembers when the Marion Columbus rd was a turnpike. Then it was owned by private interests. Revenue was collected from toll gates located at intervals of several miles.

Smith also has a clear recollection of the murder of Israel Bradley by Inoch Young. His memory of this incident which occurred nearly 50 years ago is very clear. For Smith made the knife with which the aged brandy was killed.

Smith was about 18 at the time.

Shortly before the murder he had fashioned a knife from an old file.

The knife was made at the request of Young who brought the file to Smith's father's shop. Smith then was a youngster just beginning to tinker around the shop.

Salmons Need Places

Back in the days of the murder salmons were regular meeting places for the villagers. On the evening of the murder Young had been in a salmon and had engaged in a quarrel with others there. Shortly he became infuriated. Leaving the salmon he went to his home and obtained the knife and came back to the salmon.

Young, then an old man was an innocent victim of Young's wrath.

He was standing on the street corner talking to a friend as Young approached. Without warning Young raised the knife above his head and plunged the steel blade into the aged man's skull. The point of the blade was broken off. Young died almost instantly.

Young was sentenced to life in the Ohio penitentiary but was paroled about 10 years later. Later he was killed in Pennsylvania in a falling crane.

"Too much attention must not be paid alarmist reports which have been received," Dr. Prest said.

This statement was made to International News Service by C. T.
Wang, foreign minister of the Chinese nationalist government in an interview in which he maintained the optimistic attitude which has characterized his demeanor since his national and Soviet Russia were plunged into a dispute which threatens to bring about war between the two countries.

MIDSUMMER BRIDAL

CUT DOWN ON COOKING IN SUMMER

Modern Refrigeration Enables Wives to Reduce Number of Dinners

THE husband who was a Summer bachelor was boasting:

"I've been eating home for three nights running since my wife went away, and I haven't done a bit of cooking!"

No, he wasn't the miracle man he implied. When a man prepares a meal for himself out of good things he finds in the refrigerator he usually regards it as a personal triumph. The simple fact was that the far-sighted wife had generously stocked the icebox before she left—preparing amply for her husband's favorite habit of late ice-box prowling.

But it's a good hint, and there's no reason why, with the excellent refrigeration available to most of us, there shouldn't be a great reduction in the number of dinners cooked. Why cook for ever meal in hot weather? You have several choices. If the family eats salads with relish there's no problem at all. You can have a different salad every night for weeks—varying with the vegetables in the market, with combinations of fish, flaked crab, any other cooked flaked fish, fresh if possible, or canned if that's all that's available.

However, even if vegetables and salads are the few popular foods, which have to be slipped in with the favorite meat dish, there's no reason why one must cook every day. Plan ahead and cook for at least two meals and sometimes it's just as easy to cook enough food for two dinners and one lunch at one time. If you must have a roast, get one big enough to serve for a cold supper or sheet meat, or a jellied meat loaf, or salad. Chicken and veal can be diced for a second or third service, mixed with dried cooked vegetables and be a complete one-piece meal requiring no extra cooking.

There's no economy in getting a small roast in warm weather if you're cooking for one meal of meat-eaters who like it for one meal a day. Be sure your refrigerator is always thoroughly chilled, and meat can be kept safely for several days. But it should not be served the same way more than once.

When cooking vegetables like beets, potatoes or carrots, cook enough for one meal. If they are plain boiled and dressed at the table with melted butter and seasoning, the leftovers can be served again in many ways without additional cooking. A combination salad of cold, cooked vegetables, plus some fresh raw greens—lettuce, watercress, shredded raw cabbage, sweet green peppers, tomatoes, cucumbers, walnuts, makes a fine salad. Add some deviled eggs, or several kinds of cheese, and have a complete though vegetarian dinner—which is just about right on a hot summer evening.

near by the steps and Feeble told him he had a black spot behind his ear and he took out his handkerchief and was wiping away at it and she said "Here let me." And she took his handkerchief and wiped behind his ear.

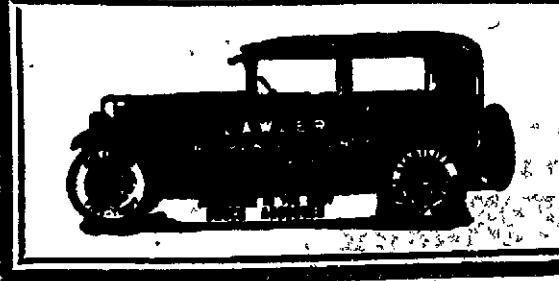

Just then the Sunday School going along and Feeble told the super intendent and everyone went in. And he made the announcements for the day and everyone was looking and listening and it was warm and he took off his spectacles and then took out his handkerchief and shook it out to wipe the sweat off his face and when he shook it out he looked at it and kinda surprised and then he took it in both hands and held it up and seemed to go into a trance. It was a pair of silk ladies underneath. Everyone in the Sunday school started whispering and then they all yelled and he rushed down the hill with the underclothes in one hand and his spectacles in the other and was gone. He never did come back all during Sunday school. Feeble sat there looking cross-eyed and as innocent as a baby.

Today was Monday. We are trying to get a flashlight. Frenchy was going to tell his father about the case, but we told him it wouldn't be our care if he did. We couldn't get a light so we played ball and went swimming and ate a few green peaches all day.

Feeble hasn't thought anything about the doctor yet.

The Heart Story of a Woman's Lasting Affections

Madge's Failure To "Fit" Mary Brings a New Problem

LILLIAN struck her baubles together triumphantly at my comment on Princess Olina's interference with Georges and Mary.

"You've got it," she said. "These two girls are just poison to each other. Mary was all set to carry out the disillusion thing with Georges, and didn't she put that scene over—but when Olina threatened to be the center of the stage with Georges, Mary just couldn't resist letting the fair princess see who really had the right to the spotlight."

She's a born trouper! Mary Mr. Underwood interposed with emphasis.

All of that and then some!" Miss agreed. "But if she's going to let her art run away with her happiness, I'm afraid I'll never fail to remove her staff."

Georges' family and friends were shocked to learn that Olina was still in town.

But the girl had a secret.

"I want to know what it costs."

Olina's eyes lit up again.

"It's a secret," she said.

"I don't care what it costs."

Many Hear 2 Diversified Programs at Opening of Chautauqua Season Here

Randall Entertainers Appear at Afternoon and Night Sessions; Booth Discusses Crime Conditions, Dickason Defends Modern Youth

Marion's annual Chautauqua opened with two diversified and well received programs yesterday. Both sessions after noon and night drew large audiences.

In the afternoon Chautauqua guests were favored with a concert by the Randall entertainers and a lecture by Charles Brattain, Jr., son of Maud Brattain, youth famous as the leader of the Volunteers of America.

At night the Randall entertainers again appeared. They sang the program with Dr. T. H. Dickason who for 29 years was a member of the faculty of Webster College.

Talent Exceptionally Good

The Chautauqua audience, which is 200, was about half filled in the afternoon and nearly two-thirds filled for the night program. If the programs yesterday are any indication of the quality of talent which is to appear at subsequent Chautauqua sessions here, Marion citizens are to spend an enjoyable week at the park field pavilion.

The Randall entertainers consist of three men and three women entertainers, their audience with two 25 minute programs of well executed vocal and instrumental selections and readings.

Gallows as Crime Problem

In the afternoon lecture Mr. Brattain chose the subject "Dollars and Sense and the Crime Problem." He spoke on various aspects of the American crime and prison problem.

For years Brattain has been a student of the American prison situation. At though he is still a young man in years he has experience. In this work he is task. This experience was passed on to Chautauqua guests in an interest holding fashion yesterday afternoon.

Tragedy and shame are both brought in Ohio prisons and offenders referred to the same sentence he referred to the Ohio penitentiary Co. Columbus as one of the worst penal institutions in the United States.

Warden E. P. Thomas, one of the best prison officials in the country.

Too Much Prison Illness

"We will not release犯人 to the prison if we can't handle them," says Dr. Brattain.

10 Broadcasting Stars

OVER WJZ NETWORK TUESDAY.

Presented in Program

A QUESTION that has puzzled fans ever since there has been a radio will be answered, at least partially, in a program to be broadcast over the WJZ network at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

At this time the question which is "Can You See Through the Telephone?" or more simply, "What Does Each Radio Star Really Look Like?" will be put directly up to the fan himself to solve once and for all. The Fred Orchestras, whose weekly program comes at this time each week have gathered together 10 of the best known of the stars of broadcasting and will present each one in a short skit Tuesday night.

The radiotes will fill out a chart describing each person who broadcasts. The only clue that the fans will have is the voice of the person broadcasting. These charts will then be sent in to whatever place is named during the broadcast.

Some of the radio stars who will appear on this unique program are Major Bowes, of the famous Capitol family; Bob Sherwood, the last of the Bernstein brothers and now broadcasting with the Dixies Creux; Carl Peterson, Phil Spitalny, John J. Kennedy, editor of the Colliers; the Paul Sisters, Yasmin Bachuk, premier cellist and Eddie Gale.

Included these radio stars, two other famous persons will take part in the program. One is a motion picture star to whom the talkies brought additional fame and an actor on the New York stage whose voice host suggests the man.

OLDEST MAIL PILOT ON PROGRAM
E. HAMILTON LEWIS, the first mail pilot in America, who led the first group of "flying postmen," to take the air on the original New York to Washington route, will complete his million miles of flying to reach the Chicago studios of the NBC where he will address a million-mile audience on speaker of the next broadcast of "Hounds of the Sky" over stations of the WGN network at 6 o'clock Tuesday night.

Although only 35 years of age, Lew has been a member of the air mail service since 1918, the year of his birth. As a barnstorming stunt flyer,

Crawford County Commissioners for Department

BUCYRUS, July 22—The five bar the county commissioners had refused to allow him sufficient money to operate his office efficiently and that the whole business of law enforcement in the county is at stake as a result, was revealed by Sheriff George Davenport in a statement Saturday who stated that only $600 had been appropriated by the commissioners to be used by the sheriff when approximately $1,000 more was needed in order to keep his office open at all times in accordance with law and custom.

The recent appropriation of $600 is intended for employment of the second deputy for the remainder of the year and allows no time for the employment of other deputies whose services are claimed by the sheriff to be necessary. Two weeks ago when the sheriff's expense account was presented to the commissioners it totaled $1,133. Only $447.14 of the amount was allowed by the board which caused the salary of Deputy Hutchison to be paid by Davenport out of his own pocket until it was altered.

After intervening state examiners now working in Bucyrus they certified to the auditor for payment and Davenport was reimbursed. Unless more funds are appropriated according to Davenport, it will be necessary to close the sheriff's office within the near future.

It was pointed out by the commissioners that they are trying to keep the county out of debt but it was agreed that a county truck was purchased at an expenditure of more than $1,000 recently when a truck of the same size could have been bought for approximately $800.

EAGLES COP TWO FROM FREMONT NINE

GOOD DOWNS FORMER MATES IN FIRST TILT

BY BOB ELLIOTT

SEP GOOD, veteran left handed ace of the Marion Eagles' hurling corps, showed his old team mates on the Fremont Merchants that he can still throw fairly mean baseball out there on the hill as he subdued them in the first game of a twin bill between the Merchants and Eagles yesterday at Lincoln Park, 10 to 7. Ray Roseberry, big right hander, made a clean sweep for the birds by beating them in a 7-inning night cap, 13 to 4.

The Merchants played some freakish baseball in the field, committing eight bobbles in the first game and four in the second. The Eagles kept Good hot in water in the first game with seven errors but played errorless ball behind Roseberry's fine hill performance.

Bacon Stars

Franklin Bacon was the outstanding star both in fielding and hitting for the locals. He collected six hits out of nine times at bat and handled 18 chances without an error at second base. Bill Toomre got three hits in the first game but went hitless in the second while Alce Shoup failed to hit in the first, but got a home run and two singles in the closer.

The Marion nine overcame a five run lead to cop the opener from Lefty Macleish and Weller. The visitors pounded Good for four doubles in the first of the fifth which they made good for four runs. They had previously scored three in the fourth frame on two hits and three errors.

Good clamped down the brakes and the Merchants couldn't get a run after the fifth. The Eagles came back in their half of the fifth and batted around, driving out four hits and getting six runs.

White Hit Hard

Bacon and company experienced little difficulty in solving the dilemma of Martin White in the last game. They started out by getting three runs in the first and then collecting eight more at various and sundry intervals.

Shoup and Bacon furnished the hitting features of this game with home runs in succession. In the fourth frame in succession. In the fourth

SKAHILL BLOWS UP IN NINTH INNING OF THRILLER FOR TITLE

Final Clash Goes 11 Frames with Moth-Eaten Trick Winning Game

K. M. BOWER LOSES OUT IN 36-HOLE FINALS FOR CUP ON LAST EIGHTEEN

STARSTERS to be all of them—that's what these Toledo Reservoir Midgets are, who won the American Legion junior baseball tournament Friday and Saturday of last week at Lincoln Park to determine the championship team of this district and incidentally who will represent this district in the state finals at Columbus next week.

However, the Galion Legion nine, which the Midgets defeated in the main Saturday afternoon, deserve a lot of praise for the wonderful spirit they displayed in battling back after the Toledo team had batted in two runs in the ninth inning and tied the score at 7-all and finally won out in the eleventh by a single tally.

Bob Skahill, Galion moundsman, was without a doubt the best pitcher in the tournament although he lost his own game against the Midgets when, with men on second and third and two out in the first of the ninth, he threw the ball away trying to catch the runner off third and both men scored, tying up the game.

Benton Weak

The Kenton team, the other entrant in the tourney, had no match for either of the finalists. Galion defeated Kenton, 10 to 2, and Toledo buried them under a 23 to 3 score Saturday morning.

Galon hopped off to a nice start in the final, getting four runs in the second after Toledo had gotten three in their half. Both teams scored two in the fifth and then Galion took a two run lead in the last of the eighth when Burman stoned on Goldsmith's sacrifice fly to Willey in left field. The game looked to be in the bag but J. Stumbaugh opened the ninth with a center field single and after Snyder had whiffed and Peffer had grounded out, Packard singled to center and Stumbaugh went to third and Peffer to second on a fielder's choice, putting the situation wide open for Skahill's wild heave into the right field bleachers. He had two strikes on Peffer when the Toledo coach yelled for the ball and Skahill turned and threw it—no play near the sack and Stumbaugh scored. Packard scored the tying run a moment later on Keller's second hit of the game, a two single to left.

Snyder Scores

The winning run came in the eleventh when Snyder was hit by a pitched ball. Peffer died to center field but Packard drove a hit through Ulrich that sent Snyder all the way from first base.

Galon, Toledo shortstop saved the day for his team in the last of the tenth when Galon made a last desperate stab for the championship. Men were on second and third with two out when Callender drove a hot one through the box and over second base that had "out" ticketed all over it. But Mt. Groal, who is just a little bit of a fellow, rushed over, snatched it with one hand and threw to Skahill for the putout.

That seemingly took the heart out of the Galion team and their bid for a run in the eleventh was only a half-hearted attempt.

The summaries of the tournament follow:

OK July 22—An irregular week with electrical and utility stocks ahead, and the dipping in now low year, sensational recessions at Chicago and Cincinnati in cotton and a rise in the money market, most important features of market today.

Hack Wilson on each of the slugger's four appearances at the plate.

What made the roar of the crowd more annoying was the fact that Wilson had hit safely in his last 27 games.

Manager Rabbit Maranville's dream of landing a first division berth for the Braves took on a rooster hue as the bowmen two-timed the Cinni-cinni, 4 to 2, and 4 to 3, for their third consecutive victory under the leadership of the veteran spark plug.

A's Cop in 15th

Cleveland won the series from the Xanks, three games to two, by knocking out Hoyt and plastering a 6 to 4 defeat on the champions. Manager

Huggins and Basyer Gebrig were banished by Ump Van Graafan for squawking over a decision, and Babe

Ruth, the $75,000-a-year pinch hitter, delivered a pinch-single.

Kyle Graham, former Boston pitcher obtained by Detroit from Seattle, held the Athletics at bay for 10 innings but went down to a 10-in-7 defeat when the Xanks nicked him for four runs in the seventh. Bing Miller led the Philadelphia attack with five hits.

Ted Lyons of the White Sox held the Red Sox to four hits and won in a romp, 10 to 0. Sam Gral's 8-to-7 victory over Washington was the Browne star's thirteenth triumph of the season. The Reds, with Lucas on the mound, subdued the Phillips, 8 to Review of Week's

Grain Market

CHICAGO, July 22—World wheat prices soared the past week on heavy speculative buying based on crop news from the American northwest and then reacted sharply at the end of the period on realizing and hedging sales. Local values rose

$1.50 for September and December by leaps and bounds with the largest public participation in years establishing a new record for volume of wheat trading Monday.

Coarse grains were benefited by the bull wheat market. All the options of corn worked above $1 in a rather quiet trade, and despite the hearty sentiment toward the December period it showed unexpected resistance on the general decline the latter part of the week. Oats held to a comparatively narrow range, while rye closely followed wheat.

Heavy Realizing

When wheat prices reached the peak of the upturn Thursday, with the September at $1.51%, the heavy profit-taking and hedging which had been under way for the last 10 cents had been stored too long became hard and sugary, but if it is placed in a warm oven until the sugar melts it will be fit for use.
